MATTY CAN'T DO

WORSE THAN OTHERS Joh.

Cause it his slumped to the bottom.
But it can rise and if it does the glory for it will reflect upon the onetime ided of New York fandom.
The team that Mathewson fell heir to isn't a bad looking club by any means Handled corrective and with means. Handled correctly, and with one or two of the seemingly weak spots plugged up that combination would make trouble in any league. An outfield composed of Eousi, Griffith, who hit around .306 last season, and Neale, a flashy youngster is a well-rounded one. The infield is mighty fast and the team has some mighty fast and the team has some mighty clever pitchers.

Somehow or other, after analyzing the mutic, it seems that if Matty is permitted to run things as he sees best, the Reds may rise up from their.

The Wharfa-Wentert match is the latest dream of the syndicate which is managing Jess Willard, the heavy-weight champion. Weinert, the boy boxer of Jersey, in willing to take a chance at being assessinated, and Willard may listen to the offer of $13,060 which was made by Eddle Pits, promoter of the Welsh-White fight at Colonado Springs.

Tom Jones and Jess Willerd always wald that the champion would quit the circus any time that they felt sure they rould make more money out of boxing. This offer exceeds the purse put up by Tex Richard for Willard's bit of the Willard-Moran fight by $2.7,500. Consequently there is every chance in the world that Willard will kiss the circus flat at the end of the season to accept the new offer. the American league. Koob now stands fourth, having won seven and lost two games.

Elmer Flick, the veteran outfielder, has taken to the racing game. He has a trotter he calls but McKerren that he thinks will be a world beater, and Flick himself will drive the horse on the Grand Circuit this season.
